The Hessen International Summer University (ISU) is organised by Hochschule Darmstadt (h_da), one of the biggest Universities of Applied Sciences in Germany. During the four-week intensive English programme, scientific knowledge will be enhanced by practical learning with hands-on experiences. The offered courses provide students with the opportunity to extend their network and establish valuable contacts for their future career. The ISU is a joint project of the Hessen institutions of higher learning and is funded by the Hessen Ministry of Higher Education, Research and the Arts.

h_da was founded in 1971. It is one of the largest universities of applied sciences in Germany with around 16,000 students, 320 professors, and over 60 degree programmes. Important features of h_da are short periods of study, the efficient organisation of courses, a clear practical orientation from the beginning of studies, a strong commitment to research and development in cooperation with partners in business and society, and an internationally-oriented education.

Darmstadt, also known as the “City of Science,” is home to several scientific institutions, universities and high-technology companies. The city is rich of art nouveau establishments, such as the Mathildenhöhe. Darmstadt is located in the vibrant metropolitan Rhine-Main area, right next to Europe’s financial centre Frankfurt/Main and within easy reach of many major European cities.

Checklist: things to bring

- Important papers such as passport, insurance, travel information
- Information leaflets you received from ISU Darmstadt beforehand
- Some cash for the first days
- Credit card/debit card and PIN-number (make sure that your card is valid in Europe/Germany)
- Comfortable shoes, also suitable for hiking
- Clothes for warm and cool days
- Raincoat and/or umbrella
- Formal attire for ceremonies, such as awarding of certificates
- Adapter and converter for any electrical devices (e.g. laptop, mobile phone, hairdryer) you may want to bring. German appliances work on 230 Volt.
- Swimsuit or swim trunks
- Any medication (e.g. for allergy) you may need
- International SIM-card. It might be very expensive to use your normal phone card, so maybe it is a good idea to check out prices for international ones. You can also purchase international phone cards in Germany.
- German dictionary in your language

Please be aware, that you have to carry your suitcase from the airport to your accommodation and also on the trip to the Cologne area. Don't pack too much!

General travel Information

Electricity

The power supply runs at 230V/50Hz. European-style round two-pin plugs are in use. You need a transformer and a plug that fits the German socket.

Credit Cards and the Euro Currency on Vacation in Germany

The official currency is the Euro "€". Credit cards are not very common; use them only for petrol stations, large shops and major hotels. American Express, Diners Club, MasterCard and Visa are widely accepted. Carry cash or a Eurocheque card as well.

Change money at banks, post offices, airport or train stations or you can use your ATM card at most ATMs in Germany. ATMs are multilingual so your Visa or debit card should work without problems. Some banks have a reciprocal agreement with other banks (for example Deutsche Bank with Barclays and Bank of America) which saves bank charges when using the ATM. Check with your bank before you travel. Most banks are affiliated with several international ATM networks (Cirrus, Plus, Star and Maestro). Please think about enough small notes, a 200 or 500 Euro note is very difficult to change.

Shopping in the Cities of Germany

Most shops in the cities are open Monday to Saturday from 10 am to 8 pm. Larger department stores and supermarkets may stay open till 10 pm (e.g. REWE). The REWE supermarket at Darmstadt Hauptbahnhof (main station) opens from 10 am – 8 pm on Sundays, too. Smaller stores, especially in rural areas, lock doors at 6 pm and are often closed for an hour in the afternoon. After hours shopping for basics is possible in petrol stations and train stations. Usually, on Sundays all stores/department stores are closed. Some bakeries just open for few hours on Sunday morning.

GUIDE FOR STUDENTS AT H_DA

Libraries

If you are looking for special books for your studies there are several libraries. The main library is in building D 10/ Schöfferstraße 8 (1st floor). Since you are not enrolled as a student at Hochschule Darmstadt, you won't be able to borrow books from the library. However, you can use the books on-site, copy (for a small fee) and use the computers for your research. The library staff members can help you, if you do not know how to find books in the library. Another university library is in the castle of Darmstadt (in the city centre) and a public library is located at Justus-Liebig-Haus, Große Bachgasse 2.

Email and computer

The ISU team will provide you with data for WiFi internet access. Computers are available in the library as well as in the respective departments. Please contact the student tutors if you have questions in regards to computer labs, etc.

Meals and cafeteria

A rich breakfast buffet will be provided at the hotel. Other meals are not included, but you can eat inexpensive meals in the campus cafeteria. The students' cafeteria („Mensa“) on the campus serves a variety of snacks and dishes from 11:30 am to 1:30 pm. In addition to the daily changing menus, pasta, salads and sandwiches are available. Vegetarian as well as non-pork meat and fish dishes are served. Prices in the cafeteria are very reasonable. You will get lunch from 2,50 to about 4,00 Euros.

TRANSPORTATION

Public transport in Darmstadt

From Darmstadt Hauptbahnhof (main train station) you are able to use public transport e.g. to h_da, your Hotel or Luisenplatz in the city centre!

Useful tip: Download RMV App (for the greater Rhine-Main area), HEAG mobilo (for Darmstadt and surrounding towns) or DB Navigator App (for all of Germany) on your mobile phone. Best tools for finding the right connection.

RMV/Heag Mobilo is a regional public transport provider. You will find the timetables for local trains, trams and buses here.

Deutsche Bahn (DB Navigator) shows all timetables for local, nationwide and European trains.

Shopping at low prices

Groceries and more...

Food and many other items can be bought at extremely low prices at the discounter ALDI. Here you can save up to 30 percent and still get groceries in good quality. Other cheap stores are LIDL, NETTO or PENNY. ALNATURA offers organic foods and a range of products for people with allergies (gluten-free and lactose-free etc.).

Telephone

If you use a landline, you usually pay your telephone fees to the German Telekom. However, there are also other private telephone companies. If you use the so-called pre-dialing codes you are able to save a lot of money, especially when making international calls. You simply dial them before the actual phone number.

Cell phone

If you use your cell phone contract or SIM card from your home country, you also have to pay fees for incoming calls.

Tip: Buy a local prepaid SIM Card with an internet flat, with or without free international calls. Make sure that your phone is unlocked!

Waste

In Germany you have to sort your waste and put it into different garbage cans. Used glass can be thrown into special containers which are put up in many public places. Plastics, paper, glass, and organic waste are being recycled and re-used.

green can	paper, cardboard
brown can	organic waste
yellow can/yellow bag	plastics
